April to June 2023

The Niger Delta conflict, peace and security landscape was comparatively stable in the second quarter of 2023. There were continuities in the nature and dynamics of peace and security with few changes in the trends of violence during the quarter. There was a decline in incidents of lethal violence and a rise in conflict fatalities during the period compared to the first quarter. Overall, there was an improvement in the peace and security situation in the region (see page 2). Peace actors implemented many successful interventions that helped to de-escalate political tensions and prevent communal violence in the aftermath of the February and March 2023 general elections in the region. According to data on the P4P Peace Map (www.tgpcloud.org/p4p/index.php?m=p4p), criminality, separatist agitation, clashes between cult gangs, and human rights violations were the major causes of lethal violence during the period.

This quarterly tracker looks at the patterns and trends of conflict risk and lethal violence, and the related pressures on peace and stability at the regional, state and local levels. It is not designed as a conflict analysis, rather it is intended to update stakeholders on the trends and patterns of violence. Understanding the deeper conflict drivers, implications, and mitigating options require a robust participatory qualitative analysis of these trends and patterns by stakeholders.

Prevailing conflict issues in the Niger Delta include organized criminality, communal tensions, political competition, resource-based conflicts, and human rights abuses. Incidents include kidnap for ransom, robbery, piracy, militancy, cult/gang violence, political violence, sexual violence, illicit drugs and human trafficking, ritual killing, mob violence, land disputes, separatist agitation, violence against security operatives, and natural disasters. Data sources include ACLED (www.acleddata.com), Nigeria Watch (www.nigeriawatch.org), VAWG Sources (focused on Violence against Women and Girls), CIEPD (https://ciepdcwc.crowdmap.com), the IPDU SMS early warning system, and others.

The Niger Delta region is highly heterogeneous, with over 40 ethnic groups who speak more than 100 languages and dialects, and whose traditional livelihood involved mainly farming and fishing. The region comprises 185 out of the 774 local government areas and covers 9 out of the 36 states of Nigeria: Abia, Akwa Ibom, Bayelsa, Cross River, Delta, Edo, Imo, Ondo and Rivers. With over 30 million people, according to a 2006 population census, and an estimated population density of 265 people per square kilometer, the region accounts for over 23% of Nigeria’s population.

The region contains vast reserves of oil and gas, which play a vital role in the Nigerian economy. Despite these abundant natural resources, the Niger Delta is marked by insecurity, poverty, and underdevelopment. Historical tensions and a proliferation of armed groups (militant, criminal, and ethno-sectarian) contribute to many of the conflict dynamics described in the following pages.
Regional Patterns and Trends in Conflict Risk — April to June 2023

There was a decline in incidents of conflict risk and violence and a rise in conflict fatalities in the Niger Delta in the second quarter of 2023 compared to the first quarter. Conflict incidents decreased by 26% from 229 in Q1 to 170 in Q2, while fatalities increased by 15% from 278 in Q1 to 319 in Q2.

Communal and political tensions in the aftermath of the 2023 general elections were mitigated by peace actors through the targeted deployment of multistakeholder Early Warning/Early Response (EWER) systems during the period. Interventions by local peace actors helped to reduce tensions by channeling grievances to traditional institutions and civil society organizations for resolution.

Communal violence reduced by 79% from 33 fatalities in Q1 to 7 fatalities in Q2 of 2023.

Conversely, an upsurge in separatist agitation, organized criminal violence and clashes between rival cult gangs resulted in an increase in conflict fatalities during the period compared to the first quarter of the year. Criminal violence including kidnap for ransom was a major driver of lethal violence and insecurity during the quarter. Data shows a 104% increase in the levels of criminality from 107 fatalities in Q1 to 218 fatalities in Q2.

At the regional level, violence associated with cult gangs increased by 118% from 38 fatalities in Q1 to 83 fatalities in Q2. There was also an increase in separatist agitation during the period, especially in Imo and Abia States. Data shows that separatist agitation related fatalities increased by 71% from 34 fatalities in Q1 to 58 fatalities in Q2.

Rivers, followed by Imo and Delta States ranked highest in lethal violence during the quarter, based on reported conflict fatalities. The LGAs with the highest number of conflict fatalities were Oguta (Imo), Emohua (Rivers), and Uyo (Akwa Ibom).

The following pages provide a breakdown by State as to the main conflict issues reported during the quarter and the trends in those issues over time.

The Foundation for Partnership Initiatives in the Niger Delta (PIND) is a nonprofit organization that promotes peace and equitable economic growth in Nigeria’s Niger Delta region through multi-stakeholder partnerships. PIND implements collaborative market-based, community-owned programs to mitigate conflicts and boost economic opportunities for local businesses, ensuring that economic progress occurs in a systemic, inclusive, and sustainable manner. Headquartered in Abuja, Nigeria, PIND also has a Washington, D.C.-based counterpart known as the Niger Delta Partnership Initiative (NDPI).

PIND has developed an interactive Peace Map to gather data on peace and conflict for validation, triangulation, and multi-stakeholder collaboration. With over 55,000 data points on conflict that dates back to 2009, the Peace Map is one of the most comprehensive data set on conflict publicly available in Nigeria.

Our Services

PIND’s Integrated Peace and Development Unit (IPDU) provides technical support to stakeholders and implementing partners in the public and private sectors. Leveraging our in-house team of subject-matter experts and a network of partners on the ground, and drawing on our over 10 years of experience in peacebuilding and archiving of conflict data and research, we offer technical support to both national and international stakeholders in conflict early warning/response, and production of data-driven conflict reports.

The Projects

IPDU: The Integrated Peace and Development Unit (IPDU) of PIND’s Peacebuilding Program responds to emerging threats and mobilizes appropriate actors and resources for preventive interventions. It provides operational level support to stakeholders through: research, capacity building, and applied learning aimed at early targeting and mitigation of potential drivers of conflict and instability.

P4P: Partners for Peace (P4P) is a network of peace actors whose mission is to build social capital around peacebuilding by amplifying the voices of positive actors, and collaborating on activities for conflict early warning and prevention. The network includes stakeholders from community-based organizations, civil society, and the general public committed to promoting peaceable livelihoods.
